

Build your analytical Skills

Administrative and Strategic Analysis is a 12-week online course that focuses on the administrative and strategic aspects of crime analysis. These types of crime analyses can be used to leverage law enforcement information into administrative decision-making processes and long-term operational strategies.

A format for your busy schedule

This class is held online over 12 weeks. There are no live sessions, so you can complete the work whenever it fits your schedule! If you get busy and can't complete the work, you can transfer to a later session without having to pay the full fee again.

This course is an intermediate level course, and we suggest that students have a basic understanding of analytical skills and/or 2-3 years of experience. This is a suggestion only and we will not be verifying your experience level.
